

PRESIDENT AND THE SAILORS

What He Said to the Men on Board U. S. S. Louisiana on His Homeward Voyage.

IN TIME OF PEACE THEY MUST BE GOOD

Proud of Them and of Ships and Prepared to Aid Them in Securing Decent Treatment in Amusement Places.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—President Roosevelt, in his trip to and from Panama on the battleship Louisiana, mingled freely with the officers and men, of whom he speaks in the highest commendation. He participated in the chief petty officers' mess and visited the branch of the Army and Navy Union, which has an organization of about fifty members on the Louisiana and whose meeting place was down in the hold of the ship.

A Vaudeville Show.

On the homeward trip a vaudeville entertainment was given by the men in honor of President and Mrs. Roosevelt. This took place during the early part of the voyage, and was held at night. President and Mrs. Roosevelt and the officers of the ship were the guests of honor and occupied the front seats, while the men were scattered around in the conning towers, on the bridge and other points of vantage. There was a program of sixteen selections made up of songs, sketches, solos of various kinds and appetizers.

Address to Sailors.

Sunday, as the vessel was nearing the Virginia Gapes, the president delivered a speech to the men assembled on board the vessel in which he told them of what he had experienced, and gave them some advice. His remarks were as follows:

"Captain, officers and enlisted men of the Louisiana

"I wish to thank you for as pleasant and interesting a trip as any president has ever had on land or sea, and a profitable trip, too. Not only do I not see how any president, but I do not see how any good American can fail to believe with all his heart in the United States navy, and can fail to do all that in him lies for the officers and men of that navy, in order that the navy itself may be in the role of a constantly increasing state of perfection as formidable, fighting ships.

Proud of Ships and Men.

"This is the third of our great ships on which I have spent some time, the other two being the West Virginia and the Missouri. I am very proud of the ship; I am even prouder of the men aboard the ship."

President Roosevelt warmly thanked and congratulated the engineer for "letting out a little" during the homeward voyage, during which time the Louisiana exceeded her contract speed of eighteen knots by from half to three-quarters of a knot.

Places of Amusement.

The president continued: "One thing more I take this chance to say. I have been astounded and mortified at the attitude of certain people ashore, in declining to allow Uncle Sam's men, when they have their uniforms on, to come into places of amusement. Outside of Washington I have no control over these places of amusement; in Washington I have and any place of amusement to which admission is denied to reputable men who are behaving themselves, and who wear the uniform of the army or the navy, will lose its license, if it is in my power to cause the loss, and I think it is."

"Now, in closing, one word, which I think is needless, I hope that every man here, officers and enlisted men alike, will remember that his profession sets him apart from all other men in the country, not in the army or the navy, by putting on shoulder a peculiar responsibility. You enlisted men, if you stay in the service thirty years and have taken reasonable advantage of your opportunities during that time can then, perhaps at the age of 50 or 55, retire on what is practically a pension of $4,000 a year. Uncle Sam has your interests at heart. You have from our people a measure of hope and belief and affection such as rightly enough, is yielded to no others."

In Peace and War.

"Now, in return, remember that each of you is in honor bound to fit himself in time of peace that, in time of war he and his comrades can render such an account of themselves as to turn a new page in the long honor roll of United States history. It will depend upon how you have done your duty in time of peace whether or not should war come the nation will have cause to feel pride or to feel shame."

"In conclusion, let me say how glad I am to be with you, how proud as the chief executive of the American people I am of you, and how heartily I believe in the character and quality of officers and enlisted men of the American fleet. I greet you and thank you again."

SAN FRANCISCO'S GAFT INQUIRY

Grand Jury Examined Several Witnesses But Returned No Indictments Yesterday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The grand jury this morning resumed its inquiry into charges of extortion from various resorts that existed before the fire. Among those summoned to appear before the jury as witnesses were James W. Coffey, Douglas Young and B. E. Nathanson.

At 12:30 o'clock the grand jury excused all witnesses until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

A number of witnesses were examined at the afternoon session, but no indictments were returned.

Judge Murusky, acting as presiding judge of the superior court, has assigned the trial of the indictments found by the grand jury against Supervisor E. P. Nicholas and Peter M. Duffy to Judge Lawlor's department.

NO SEATS FOR PARENTS OF THE PRIMA DONNA

Miss Farrar's Triumph as Juliet Appealed With Especial Force to Them.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The two spectators probably most interested in last night's performance of "Romeo and Juliet" at the Metropolitan opera house were compelled to take their places among those standing at the back of the brass rail, as there were no seats to be had for them. They were Sid Farrar and his wife, the parents of the young American prima donna. When they thought of securing seats for themselves it was already too late.

Another interested spectator in the orchestra stalls was Mrs. Emma James, who made her first appearance before her own countrymen as Juliet on the stage of the Metropolitan fifty years ago. Mrs. James applauded Miss Farrar most enthusiastically.

FOETUS PUT IN EVIDENCE

Sensation in the Gillette Murder Case.

More Testimony to Prove that Grace Brown Died from Blows.

HERKIMER, N. Y., Nov. 27.—With interest heightened by the declaration of medical experts that Grace Brown was clubbed before she fell into the waters of Big Moose lake, there was a larger crowd than ever at the Gillette murder trial today. More than 1000 persons were turned away and those who got seats were on hand as early as 7 o'clock to secure them.

The prosecution cannot complete its case before Thanksgiving and the case will not go to second jury before Wednesday of next week.

A sensation was created in the court room when the prosecution offered as evidence the unborn child taken from the body of Grace Brown at the autopsy. District Attorney Ward offered the exhibit and met immediate objection by the defense.

"It has no bearing on the case and is only offered as a means of making the people's case spectacular," said Thomas, of counsel for Gillette.

"I was not sure there was to be no denial from the defense that such a condition existed I would exclude," said the court.

Thomas assured the court that the girl's pregnant condition would not be disputed.

The district attorney insisted that the exhibit be identified.

"I would like to exhibit the girl's entire body here," said Ward. "I have a right to take it from its grave if I want to and bring it here."

The exhibit was admitted, Dr. E. H. Douglas, who occupied the witness stand, swearing he assisted in its removal from the body found in Big Moose lake.

Dr. Douglas today gave several comparisons between the conditions usually found in drowned bodies and the conditions found in the body of Grace Brown.

Dr. George H. Smith corroborated the testimony of Dr. E. H. Douglas and A. Douglas, who preceded him today, by testifying that Grace Brown came to her death from blows.

The defense secured a point when Rev. Cuthbert Frost, at a point when he repeated his statement that Gillette was the first to speak of the drowning of Grace Brown, after his arrival at Arrowhead. Rev. Frost refused to swear to that statement again today.

MME. SEMBRICH'S EXCELLENT CHARITY

Proceeds of Her Benefit Concert Enabled Conradi's Orchestra to Replace Instruments.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Madame Sembrich today distributed the fund which she raised last spring at her recent at Carnegie Hall for the benefit of the orchestra of the Conradi Metropolitan Opera company, who suffered through the earthquake at San Francisco.

In all, 165 members of the company shared in the $10,126, which was the net receipt of the concert. As the concert was primarily intended to raise money to buy new instruments for the players in the orchestra, they received $751. The remainder, $2435, was divided among the chorus. Every player in the orchestra has been enabled to replace the instruments lost in San Francisco.

TILLMAN'S SIZZLING SPEECH

"To Hell With the Law," Says the Senator in Reply to an Interruption at Chicago.

NEGROES WERE MADE FROM INFERIOR CLAY

If Anyone Undertakes to "Save South Carolina," the People Will Make the State Red Before they Make It Black.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—The efforts of the colored citizens of Chicago to prevent United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman from delivering an address here tonight, in Orchestra hall, because of the position he has assumed toward the negro race, were unsuccessful. When the South Carolina senator arrived in Chicago early in the afternoon he was told of threats of injunction proceedings to prevent his appearing on the speaker's platform tonight, and of a money consideration that had been offered if he would cancel his engagement, but Tillman declared that it did not make any difference to him what the colored people did, he was going to fill his engagement tonight, and he kept his word.

Under Police Guard.

Until he leaves for Fond Du Lac, Wis., tomorrow, Senator Tillman will be guarded by police and private detectives. This is in accordance with an order issued by Mayor Dunne, who was scheduled to preside at tonight's meeting, but who refused to do so after a committee of colored citizens had offered strenuous objections to Senator Tillman's appearance on the speaker's platform.

Senator Tillman gave his address protected by a guard of detectives. In anticipation of trouble, a number of policemen were kept in nearby stations in reserve, but they were not called for. Six colored policemen mingled with the crowd of blacks and whites that blocked the street in front of the hall, to arrest any one who made a disturbance.

Colored People There.

In the audience were many colored people, but they listened to Senator Tillman's remarks good-naturedly and although he was interrupted many times by those who wished to ask questions, the meeting passed off without trouble.

In leading up to his address, shall the United States annex Cuba? Mr. Tillman took occasion to criticize Mayor Dunne's action in refusing to preside at the meeting.

A Dig for Mayor Dunne.

"I have been told that I have been snubbed by the mayor of the city," said the senator. "I never saw Mayor Dunne in my life. I did not ask him to be here tonight to introduce me to this audience, nor did I ask anyone else to do so. If anyone has been snubbed it is these gentlemen who requested this meeting to secure money for the Chicago Union hospital, who requested Mayor Dunne, the creature of a political hour, to come forward and add his mite."

Hammer and Tongs.

"I have been advertised to discuss the annexation of Cuba," continued Tillman, "but in view of the fact that I could not discuss this subject without discussing the race question, I am going to go at the matter hammer and tongs, straightforward like a man. Therefore, I shall discuss the race problem pure and simple, from an American standpoint and not from a Cuban standpoint."

"Owing to my experience with the question and the diligent study I have made of it, I believe I am better qualified to discuss this question than any other man in America. I am going to base my appeal on facts—not on theories."

Loses His Temper.

While discussing the fifteenth amendment to the constitution which he declared gave the negro every right that a white man had, he was interrupted several times by one of his listeners, who kept asking, "How about Kentucky?" Finally Tillman seemed to lose his temper, and exclaimed, "Oh, shut your mouth. You don't know the A, B, C of this thing. I forgot forty years ago, more than you ever knew."

"You make up your mind that equality before the law which the fifteenth amendment guarantees, is right, and should be enforced, notwithstanding the result. If this law was enforced it would result in two states, at least, being dominated absolutely by negroes, while four other states would be so near being governed by the negro, that there would practically be an equal division of offices."

A voice—"How about the law?" Senator Tillman—"The law? To hell with such law."

After telling in detail how the negro is prevented from casting his ballot in the South, Senator Tillman said to this question, "There is a great deal more to this question than the little racket here in Chicago."

A voice—"How about the negro judges?" (Referring to Judge Barnett, colored, the only Republican nominee for municipal court judge, defeated at the recent election.) Tillman—"Well, I will tell you about your negro judges, and about your political machines putting him on your ticket and bamboozling the poor ignorant boobies into electing him, and when afterward, you fellows who voted the ticket without knowing what was on it, find a little truth and cheat him out of it."

"No matter what the people may do or say, the white race in the South never will be dominated by the negro, and I want to tell you how that if some state should ever make an attempt to 'save South Carolina' we will show them in their fanaticism that we will make it red before we make it black."

Of Superior Clay.

"God Almighty made the Caucasian of better clay than the Mongolian or the African or any other race. The Ethiopian is a burden-carrier. He has done absolutely nothing for history, nor has he ever achieved anything of great importance. There is no great among the races. Yet this people has been picked out by the fanatics of the north and lifted up to the equality of citizenship and the rights of suffrage. 'No doubt many of us have listened to the oratory of the greatest colored man of this country, Booker Washington. He had a white father, however, and out of his brain and his character, he has gotten his qualities from that father.'"

Outrages on Women.

Senator Tillman then told his audience of the attacks on white women by negroes in the South, and declared that the people of the North were in a great measure responsible for this state of affairs.

In conclusion, Senator Tillman said: "Now, as a general illustration of the injustice that is sometimes done, President Roosevelt discharged three companies of colored soldiers without a court martial, and in doing this, he punished innocent men for the crime of a few. In doing this, he transgressed the authority of the law, and he ought not to have done it."

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Mayor Dunne today announced that he would detail a number of policemen in plain clothes to mingle with the throng at the lecture of Senator Tillman tonight and see that no violence or insult was offered the senator. Among the number are several policemen selected because of their acquaintance with the negro population of Chicago.

A number of negroes today sought the advice of lawyers regarding the procuring of an injunction restraining the senator from delivering his lecture. They were informed that the chances were against it, and even though it was successful it would not fail to have the ultimate effect of embittering racial feeling. The project was abandoned.

Senator Tillman arrived over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road. He was met at the station by a committee of women who have in charge the outside of the hospital on behalf of which the senator is to lecture. Mrs. Keeler, the head of the committee, after greeting the senator, said: "We hope, Senator, that you will not say anything that will be likely to stir up trouble."

The senator replied: "Mrs. Keeler, I think I will say just about what I feel like in my lecture."

No other statement was made by the senator, who was immediately driven to his hotel.

About a dozen police officers in uniform and a number of others in plain clothes were at the depot but there was no demonstration of any kind nor were there any negroes about the station.

After visiting his hotel, Senator Tillman was invited by a number of friends to attend a luncheon at the Froquois club. While there he made a short address in which he said:

"I have no desire to make trouble and I do not suppose that my coming here would cause any disturbance. I am surprised that there has been any effort to stop my expression of views brought on the civil war. In this case, however, the interference is not south of the Mason and Dixon line and by the colored people."

He also recited the incident of two white women being insulted on the street by negro soldiers and the indignity by a negro soldier, who seized a white woman by the hair and threw her violently to the ground. This incident, occurring on Aug. 12th, inflamed and infuriated the citizens.

The enlisting of presses and the sending out of patrols which followed, Major Blockson says, probably increased the resentment of the soldiers against the people of Brownsville. Continuing, Major Blockson described the raid on the town in detail.

In conclusion, he says that many of the old soldiers of the battalion who had nothing to do with the raid must know something tangible as to the identity of the criminals, and that if they do not disclose their knowledge they should be made to suffer with others more guilty, as far as the law will permit.

In his summary of the reports made by the other officers and of his own efforts to discover the guilty soldiers, Brigadier General Garlington declares that every means of getting evidence concerning the shooting was exhausted. All the men of the three companies were talked with individually on different occasions, he says, and the consequences of their failure to give up the guilty soldiers were pointed out. All the soldiers avoided questions, and were refused to discuss the events at Brownsville which were known to have enraged the negroes before the riot.

Arguments in Vain.

The secretive nature of the race, where crimes are charged to members of their color, is well known," General Garlington says. "Under such circumstances self-protection, or self-interest, is the only lever by which the casket of their minds can be pried open. Acting upon this principle, the history and record of the regiment to which they belong, the part played by these old soldiers in this record, were pointed out and enlarged upon. The odium and disgrace to the battalion and its individual members by this crime were indicated. The future effect upon the individuals and upon the battalion as a whole was referred to, and finally, the opinion of the president of the United States in the matter, his desire and the desire of the war department to separate the innocent from the guilty were explained, but without effect."

In view of the circumstances and the apparent concerted action on the part of the men not to reveal any knowledge of the affair General Garlington recommended their discharge without

PRESIDENT AND THE NEGROES

Dismissed Soldiers May Be Reinstated By Him If He Has Facts to Warrant Him.

BUT HE WANTS FACTS AND NOT SURMISE

Colored Investigator of the Affairs Gives His Version and the Officer Who Recommended Dismissal Reports.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—President Roosevelt holds that he has the power to reinstate in the army any of the members of the three companies of the Twenty-fifth regiment of colored infantry, who were discharged without honor as a result of trouble at Brownsville, Tex., some time ago, if the circumstances of any individual case can justify such action.

Whether he will avail himself of that power, according to the president, will depend upon the evidence that may be presented to him in the case of any one or more soldiers which will tend clearly to exculpate them from any participation in the incident. This is in accordance with the announcement made while away to Secretary Taft, when the latter had telegraphed to the president, stating that application had been made by a number of persons for a rehearing.

Must Have Evidence.

The president wants evidence, not deductions, as he told some of his callers today, or non-participation, before anything may be done.

Some statement is expected from the White House in a few days defining the president's attitude and clearly outlining his reasons for ordering the discharge of the three companies of colored men. He is awaiting certain data bearing on the subject and some communications from persons interested before making any statement.

Callers Remonstrated.

The case came before President Roosevelt today, when Charles W. Anderson, collector of internal revenue at New York, and Emanuel J. Scott, secretary to Booker T. Washington, called on him in behalf of the discharged men. They made an earnest argument in behalf of the claims of the innocent men of the companies who want to be reinstated.

They had no particular program for action to present to the president.

Causes that Led to Riot.

In revisiting the causes which led to the riot at Brownsville, Major Blockson, who investigated the affair for the war department, says that the soldiers heard they were not to go to Camp Mabry, because Texas troops had threatened to use bolt cartridges in the maneuvers. The people did not desire colored troops there, and the soldiers of the Twenty-fifth were not allowed to drink with the white people at the principal bars in the town.

He also recites the incident of two white women being insulted on the street by negro soldiers and the indignity by a negro soldier, who seized a white woman by the hair and threw her violently to the ground. This incident, occurring on Aug. 12th, inflamed and infuriated the citizens.

The enlisting of presses and the sending out of patrols which followed, Major Blockson says, probably increased the resentment of the soldiers against the people of Brownsville. Continuing, Major Blockson described the raid on the town in detail.

In conclusion, he says that many of the old soldiers of the battalion who had nothing to do with the raid must know something tangible as to the identity of the criminals, and that if they do not disclose their knowledge they should be made to suffer with others more guilty, as far as the law will permit.

In his summary of the reports made by the other officers and of his own efforts to discover the guilty soldiers, Brigadier General Garlington declares that every means of getting evidence concerning the shooting was exhausted. All the men of the three companies were talked with individually on different occasions, he says, and the consequences of their failure to give up the guilty soldiers were pointed out. All the soldiers avoided questions, and were refused to discuss the events at Brownsville which were known to have enraged the negroes before the riot.

Acting upon this principle, the history and record of the regiment to which they belong, the part played by these old soldiers in this record, were pointed out and enlarged upon. The future effect upon the individuals and upon the battalion as a whole was referred to, and finally, the opinion of the president of the United States in the matter, his desire and the desire of the war department to separate the innocent from the guilty were explained, but without effect."

In view of the circumstances and the apparent concerted action on the part of the men not to reveal any knowledge of the affair General Garlington recommended their discharge without honor. He says: "They appear to stand together in a determination to resist the detection of the guilty; therefore, they should stand together when the penalty falls."

EL RENO, Okla., Nov. 27.—Ghiora Stewert (colored), who has been at Fort Reno for the past twenty days securing data to be placed as evidence before President Roosevelt in the matter of the discharge of the negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry, said last night:

"The substance of my investigation, supported by over 100 affidavits from the members and non-commissioned officers of the companies and from the statement of the officers of the companies, amounts to this:

"First, that the citizens did not want negro soldiers in Brownsville, Tex.

"Second, that this feeling became so intense that on the very night in question Major Penrose issued an order and sent out patrols through the town that all men should be in camp by 8 o'clock, whether on pass or not, and Captain Markin, officer of the day, reported that all men were in camp that night."

"Third, that the firing that night was not of mind arms."

"All the inspectors sent out from the war department have started out with the assumption that there was a conspiracy among the men to keep back the truth and shoot up the town. They have never made an investigation into the real facts. From the investigation, there was undoubtedly a conspiracy to make a case against the soldiers and get them out of the town."

"Six sergeants of long service and in whom the commissioned officers have implicit confidence are going to Washington with me to act as witnesses before President Roosevelt."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 27.—Sergeant Israel Harris and four other sergeants of the negro troops discharged at Fort Reno left this evening for Washington. Sergeant Harris said:

"We do not so much ask for reinstatement as that our discharge papers carry with them a record of service. Some of the men have served twenty-five years."

KILLED FIVE FOR MONEY

Wholesale Poisoning By Woman in Philadelphia.

Alleged to Have Killed Husband, Two Babies and Two Friends for $1000.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—The most remarkable case of wholesale poisoning of persons to secure insurance money that has ever been unearthed in this city is charged against Bridget Carey, who is 32 years old, is charged with having poisoned her husband, Patrick; her two children, Mary, aged 8 years, and Annie, aged 6, who died a week ago, and Patrick and Ceilia Cook, tenants in the Carey house at 1912 Hamilton street.

All of the alleged victims died within eleven months, and the police allege that Mrs. Carey benefited by their deaths to the extent of $1000, through the collection of insurance.

The woman's arrest followed an investigation made into the deaths of her two children, which occurred last week. It was said at the time that their deaths were caused by eating poisoned candy, or candy that contained deleterious substances. An analysis of candy such as the children are said to have purchased showed that it contained no poisonous substance and when Coroner's Physician Wadsworth made an analysis of the stomachs of the children, he found no trace of poison.

According to Captain of Detectives Donnelly, it was learned that the children were insured for $125 each, and that Mrs. Carey collected this amount after their deaths. The police officials say they learned that the woman had secured such poison and further investigation showed that Patrick and Ceilia Cook, brother and sister, who lived with Mrs. Carey, had died within a few months under suspicious circumstances.

Mrs. Cook had been the tenant of the house and Mrs. Carey was a tenant. The police officials say that Mrs. Carey was insured for $200 in favor of Patrick Cook, her brother, and that on August 13th she died. Patrick had been insured for $500 in favor of his sister. He collected the insurance on her policy after her death and Mrs. Carey took up the lease of the house. Thereupon Patrick Cook made his insurance in favor of Mrs. Carey and shortly thereafter was stricken ill and died. The police officials say Mrs. Carey secured the insurance.

After the death of the children, the police learned that the woman's husband died suddenly about ten months ago, and by physicians, who were called in at various times during the illness of the alleged victims, they were urged to make a rigid investigation. The bodies of Patrick Cook and his sister have been exhumed and that of the woman's husband will be disinterred.

Careful Consideration.

Whether the president will make the report public has not been determined. He will give the question full consideration before taking any further step. He has expressed hope that all cause for complaint on the part of the day-people be removed and has stated that he will do his utmost to bring about a satisfactory settlement of the whole matter.

As to Porto Rico.

The president believes the people of Porto Rico are entitled to American citizenship and will recommend that it be granted them in a special message to congress. The president has expressed the opinion that it is lamentable that they do not now enjoy this right. He noted that although Porto Rico sent a delegate to the Pan-American convention at Rio de Janeiro, that delegate could not even say he was an American, and this is the case if he visits Europe. The president was very much pleased with his visit to Porto Rico, which he says is a fine country, is prosperous and her government an excellent one. The people, he says, are prosperous.

PORTO RICO OFFICIAL FIRED BY PRESIDENT

United States District Attorney on the Island Guilty of Malfeasance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—President Roosevelt today directed the dismissal from office of North A. K. Pettigill, United States district attorney for Porto Rico. It was charged that while district attorney, he had, in the capacity of a private attorney, entered suit against another government official, charging gross misconduct in office. The action of the district attorney, the president said amounted practically to malfeasance in office.

Secretary Metcalf Reported Upon Japs in San Francisco—Porto Ricans Ought to Be Given American Citizenship

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—President Roosevelt, bronzed and invigorated in health from his trip to Panama and Porto Rico, was in his office early today. Secretary Loeb took to him a large amount of correspondence which had accumulated since the president's departure and was with him up until the time of the cabinet meeting at 11 o'clock.

The president's special message on the canal, it is said, will be sent to congress probably about a week after it convenes on Monday. It will deal with every phase of the question and give a graphic and detailed description of conditions on the isthmus as the president found them. There will be recommendations for the betterment of conditions which suggested themselves during his visit.

His Private Views.

With but two exceptions, the president today expressed his complete satisfaction with the condition of affairs on the isthmus of Panama, as disclosed during his three days' inspection of the work in progress there. One of the exceptions, the president told his callers, related to the sanitary feature of the quarters for bachelor negro laborers, and this, he pointed out, under ordinary circumstances, will have been adjusted within a very short time. The president expressed himself as impressed with the magnitude of the undertaking at Panama, and of the way in which it is being carried out.

Roosevelt is not yet certain whether he will recommend any changes.

Cabinet Meeting.

For the first time for several months there was a full attendance at the cabinet meeting today. A number of topics were considered, the session being protracted for almost three hours. One of these related to some feature of the Cuban situation, but no statement was obtained on the subject.

Nearly the entire time of the session of the cabinet, which lasted from 11 to half past 1 o'clock, was devoted to listening to the president's story of his trip to the isthmus of Panama and the conditions existing which he pictured in Japanese Question.

President Roosevelt had a long conference with Secretary Metcalf at the White House tonight regarding the alleged discrimination against the Japanese residents in San Francisco.

More than a month ago, when the agitation affecting the alleged discrimination against the Japanese in San Francisco was at its height, the president sent Metcalf to that city to make a thorough and exhaustive investigation with a view to hearing at first hand the exact condition of affairs. It was charged that the alleged discrimination consisted among other things of denying the Japanese equal privileges with the whites, and that there had been threats and overt acts against the Japanese merchants. Metcalf's report is ready and was considered very fully by the president tonight.

The secretary has uniformly declined to discuss with the newspapers any of the conclusions he has reached, but it has been generally understood that it would show that the people of San Francisco maintained that what they did in the matter of school accommodations was entirely within their rights and that the whole matter was one of local administration.

Careful Consideration.

Whether the president will make the report public has not been determined. He will give the question full consideration before taking any further step. He has expressed hope that all cause for complaint on the part of the day-people be removed and has stated that he will do his utmost to bring about a satisfactory settlement of the whole matter.

New York Paper on South American Trade.

Tariff Revision Is Needed for the Increase of Business There.

Our trade with South America, which remained virtually stationary for a long series of years, has shown during the first six years of the present century a fair proportion of increase. It amounted to $133,000,000 in 1900 and reached a total of $215,000,000 in the fiscal year ending with last June. Of this latter total, $140,000,000 represented imports and $75,000,000 exports. It would thus appear, says the New York Journal of Commerce, that we are buying nearly twice as much from South America as we sell in that market, and that it only needs a little better directed energy to make the process of exportation nearly an equal one. But South America is a very large expression indeed—two and one-half times as large as the United States without Alaska—comprising a great variety of states of extremely diverse conditions of material and commercial development.

More than the entire difference between the sum of our exports to and our imports from the South American continent is accounted for by the disproportion between our purchases from and our sales to Brazil. In the last fiscal year the former aggregated $30,000,000 and the latter $14,000,000. So in a lesser degree with Chile, from which our imports were $17,000,000 and our exports only $4,000,000 in the last fiscal year. But from Argentina our imports amounted to only $18,400,000, while our exports reached the sum of $32,700,000. In other words, the country which buys from us nearly as much as all the rest of the South American countries put together has to settle with us in gold for about 44 per cent of all she takes of our products.

It is, therefore, not singular that Mr. Charles M. Pepper should have reported two years ago in regard to one important branch of our export trade with Argentina as follows: "The largest individual customer for steel rails and railway materials is the Argentine Republic, yet the United States does not have the share of this trade which it should have. In the last year for which statistics are available Argentine imports of steel rails were $1,107,000, of which only $163,000 was from the United States; railway materials, exclusive of rails, totaling $3,811,779,496, of which $392,338 was from the United States. Of locomotives the imports amounted to $345,000, to which the United States contributed only $10,000. The importation of railway cars amounted to $247,000, of which $138,000 was from the United States."

In his speech before the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress, Secretary Root made a laborious compilation of the reports of our consuls and special agents in regard to the neglected requirements of the South American trade, and embodied these in a series of recommendations for the guidance of manufacturers and exporters. The manifest defect of the secretary's carefully collated advice is that it deals with matters so extremely obvious as to assume a lamentable defect of intelligence among the men who have been engaged for a generation or two in the active conduct of our trade with South America. According to Mr. Root's code of commercial maxims, the South American exporter "should learn what the South Americans want and conform his product to the wants, and they think they want heavy castings; he should give them heavy castings and not expect them to buy light ones because he thinks they are better. If they want coarse cottons he should give them coarse cottons and not expect them to buy fine cottons."

Had Mr. Root pushed his inquiries a little farther he might readily have discovered that the question of maintaining two standards in staple articles of manufacture is not one that can be dismissed by the statement that while it may not pay today it will pay tomorrow. The amateur investigators whose judgment Mr. Root sets above that of experienced manufacturers and merchants lack both the knowledge and the experience to decide such a question. Nor is it very much more to the purpose to dispense solemn counsel about the employment of agents who speak the language of the country to which they are sent, about conforming the credit system to that of the country where we wish to sell goods, about establishing banks to facilitate trade and about impressing upon everybody who has any dealings with South Americans the necessity of according them the respect which they are accustomed to demand and to which they are justly entitled.

All this is tolerably familiar to the mercantile public who are interested in such matters and who pay any attention to the contents of the daily consular reports, but it does not require any new weight or seriousness from being hastily adopted as the last expression of commercial wisdom by the secretary of state. Though the secretary's mind seems to be open to the instantly formed opinions of popularizers, it is not so open to counsel that goes to the root of the commercial difficulty of dealing with a country like Argentina, whose exports aggregate just about as much as those of Brazil, Chile and Peru combined, and which imports very much more than all three. It is Secretary Root's deliberate judgment that "we cannot repeat the protective tariff; no political party dreams of repealing it; we do not wish to lower the standard of American living or American wages." But how about the modification of the tariff, either by reduction or abolition of duties on the negotiation of reciprocity treaties, accomplishing the same end by indirect means?

That is a question which Mr. Root chooses to evade, but a plain answer to it would have been worth a good deal more than the two or three columns of advice with which he has favored those engaged in trying to extend our trade with South America. The last official utterance of Mr. Root's party on the question of reciprocity confined the making of commercial treaties to such arrangements as "can be effected without injury to American agriculture, American labor or any American industry." That, as Mr. Root must be aware, has been found fatal to the negotiation of any commercial treaty with Argentina, because such a treaty necessarily included a reduction of our wool duties and was thus assumed to be injurious to one of the staples of our agriculture. This is but one demonstration among many of the absolute incompatibility of the hard and fast economic principles which bear the party stamp of Republicanism and any intelligent movement for the extension of our foreign trade.

INVESTED MONEY ON "SPIRITS" ADVICE

Sensational Testimony In Suit for Accounting of Bath House Company.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 27.—The efforts of the defense to show that Mrs. Pauline Youngberg of Denver financed the Manitou bath house proposition of F. N. Hitchcock of her own free will has brought to light the story of a strange spiritualistic force said to have been employed to make Mrs. Youngberg part with her money. According to Mrs. Youngberg's testimony in the district court today, in the suit brought by Jeannette Campbell and other stockholders in the Manitou bath house company, to secure an accounting of the funds turned over to President Hitchcock, the powers of mediums were employed to influence her in buying stock in the company. "Hitchcock began talking about spiritualism soon after I first met him," said Mrs. Youngberg, in telling of her experiences with the Manitou bath house promoter. "That was in the summer of 1904, and from that time to about a year ago I attended meetings."

Mrs. Youngberg said that the spirits told her that Hitchcock's plan was a good investment, that Hitchcock was a careful, reliable, business man and that she would make money if she would go into business with him. Mrs. Youngberg is said to have invested approximately $4000.

BRAVE WOMAN SAVED SHIP

Captain's Wife at the Helm Forty-Eight Hours.

Stirring Story of the Sea Told on Arrival Safely in Port.

MACHIAS, Maine, Nov. 27.—To the heroic fortitude of the captain's wife, Mrs. Frank McGuire, who stood lashed to the wheel during the severe gale that swept the coast from Sunday, Nov. 11th to the following Wednesday, is due largely the safety of the schooner, Gold Hunter, of Blue Hills, Maine, which worked her way into this harbor yesterday, eleven days overdue from Portland. The little vessel showed plainly the marks of the storm. Her deck was swept clean and her sails were in tatters, but the hull withstood the terrific pounding it received. The Gold Hunter, with Captain McGuire, his wife and one man for an assistant, left Portland, Nov. 10th, with a general cargo for the port. On Nov. 11th the Gold Hunter made good progress with clear weather until afternoon, when the wind breezed up from the northeast while the vessel was four miles off Peter Manan light. A sudden gust of wind split the mainsail of the vessel and carried away the jibs. Without her head sails, the little schooner became unmanageable. The sea made up rapidly and the vessel was continually smothered in the wash of the combers. Mrs. McGuire was below at the time the storm broke, preparing supper, but rushed on deck and took the wheel, while her husband and his assistant went to work to bend on a foresail so as to bring the vessel up to the wind.

With the craft wallowing wildly in the trough of the sea this task was most difficult. With great patience and consummate seamanship, the men labored for hours to get their little rag of sail set while Mrs. McGuire, lashed to the wheel, aided as well as she could by what little steering was possible on the almost helpless craft.

Finally the foresail was rigged, double reefed, and while the two men clung exhausted to the mast, Mrs. McGuire brought the vessel around head up to the wind and held her there for forty-eight hours. Before the fury of the gale the vessel drifted out to sea for ninety-eight miles off Mount Desert rock. In all this it was impossible to cook food or even heat any coffee.

Kept up only by excitement and pluck, Mrs. McGuire clung to her post through the height of the gale, while Captain McGuire and his assistant attended to their little sail, which continued to break from its fastenings. It was a man's work at the wheel, with the helm "kicking" strongly to the wild plunges of the ship, but the endurance of the rugged North woman was equal to the test. On Nov. 15th the gale abated and the two men rigged temporary sails before Mrs. McGuire could be relieved from her post. All hands were exhausted by their struggles and exposure, and under such scanty canvas as could be set it was hard and slow work bringing the Gold Hunter into port, where she had about been given up for lost.

BILLIARD GAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—In tonight's game of the billiard tournament at 15.2 ball line, Harry P. Cline of Philadelphia, defeated Charles Peterson by a score of 400 to 35. Cline started off with the white ball and made 35 on his first attempt. Peterson was weak on nursing on open table play all through and his best run of the night was twenty-three in the eleventh inning.

LORDS ARE IN DANGER

British Liberals Openly Favor Ending the Peers.

Amendments to Education Bill Cause Indignation and Arouse Protest.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The intensity of the political feeling aroused by the house of lords' treatment of the education bill found expression today in an emergency meeting of the general committee of the National Liberal federation, at which a resolution was unanimously adopted urging the government to take the drastic step of totally rejecting the lords' amendments to the bill and "resolutely to determine that the present parliament shall not come to an end until steps are taken to bring a final arbitrament of the question whether the house of peers any longer possesses the right of vote on the will of the people as declared by the house of commons."

The meeting was the largest and most representative of its kind during the past twenty years. The speakers warily denounced the action of the peers, declaring that the house of commons should not waste another day in considering the amendments to the bill, which should be returned to the house of lords without debate and that the Liberal government ought to apply the only remedy which must be drastic and final.

An important letter from Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman was read, in which the premier said it was realized by all Liberals "that the house of lords would hasten to assert itself as the instrument of unionism as soon as the country rendered a verdict against the Unionist government and the Unionist policy."

Continuing, the premier's letter reads: "Still we may plead guilty to a certain sense of surprise at the violence of the manifestation, now that it has come. The education bill, as passed by the house of commons, was a bill which the country demanded in unmistakable terms at the general election. It now seems to have been turned into a travesty of its original form. As amended, it perpetuates, if it does not extend, the very grievances and wrongs imposed upon the country by the act of 1902."

COLTON WILL CASE COMES TO TRIAL

Santa Cruz Superior Court Has a Million Dollar Contest to Adjudicate Upon.

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 26.—The Colton will case began today before Superior Judge Smith. S. Sacher, guardian of his 6-year-old daughter, is trying to break the will of Mrs. Ella Colton, great grandmother of the girl, which cut her off with $1000. The remainder of the $100,000 estate went to her other daughter and her children. Sacher charges undue influence on the part of Mrs. J. B. Dalgren, the only surviving daughter, who lives here.

NEW MEXICO'S VOTE IN LAST ELECTION

Majority for Statehood Was 1130. Contest Assured in Case of Delegate Andrews.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 26.—A special to the Times from Santa Fe, N. M., says that the vote of New Mexico in the recent election was cast for statehood was 1130. Andrews, Republican, was declared elected delegate to congress by a plurality of 274. Larrazole, Democrat, filed notice of contest, alleging gross fraud in several counties. The total vote cast was 45,707.

HUNGARIANS WANT CHINESE COOLIES

Farm Laborers Threaten to Strike and Farmers Plan a Retaliatory Move.

VIENNA, Nov. 26.—Owing to a threatened strike of farm laborers in the county of Bekes, Hungary, the agricultural society of the district held a meeting today, and decided unanimously, in the event of the laborers' proving obdurate, to hire 20,000 Chinese coolies to replace them. It is extremely doubtful, however, that the government will permit such a step.

JUDGMENT AGAINST LIEUTENANT BARRY FOR THE GOVERNMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Default judgment was entered against the defendant today in the United States circuit court, in the case brought by the government against Thomas P. Barry to recover $3368, with costs and interest at 6 per cent, from May 2, 1902, for a balance alleged to be due on Barry's accounts, while he was a first lieutenant of volunteers stationed at Lime Point, in San Francisco harbor, during the Spanish war.

THE EDISON CANYON ROAD

County Surveyor McKay on Trip of Inspection.

Line of Tunnel to Bring Power
Below Trimmer Springs
Station.

Scott McKay, the county surveyor, leaves this morning for the upper waters of the Kings river, on a tour of inspection of the work that is being done on that stream by the Edison Power company of Los Angeles. This is a most important, on which millions is to be spent by the company, and the construction work now going on there is of special importance to Fresno in that it will give in the near future a duplicate road to the Kings river canyon.

Unfortunately, a large part of the work that has been carried on during the last six months by the company has been in the nature of repairs on the road that was constructed before that time. Last spring the company had between eight and ten miles of highway constructed, running from a point on the left bank of the river and three miles above Trimmer Springs to a point above the mouth of Ten Mile creek. When the June floods came, this line of road was found to have been built in many places too low. Some of it was three or four feet under water, and other parts spoiled by the fact that it had been poorly constructed. A new superintendent was put in charge by the company, and he has elevated the grade so that it will be above any possible high water. The roadway is said to be now perfectly smooth and well built.

In addition to this, the company is at work on a line of tunnel that will conduct water about two miles below that station. This is across a small peninsula formed by a sharp bend in the course of the river. It was at first planned to build the bridge and lower power house of the company above Trimmer, but it has been found that a considerable fall could be taken advantage of by the building of this tunnel.

This latest change in plans will call for the building of the bridge at the lower point. This is the bridge the company entered into a stipulation with the Board of Supervisors to build, in recognition of which the county has already constructed a short cut to Trimmer, known as the Bennett and Denigars roads. It is of course immaterial to the county just where the bridge is to be built, and having it at the lower place will do away with the need of the county's building a road from Trimmer to the bridge at the point above.

While Mr. McKay is in the mountains, he will go up the river all the way into the canyon, to view out the intended course of the company's road. This part of the river course is so protected from snow that we can continue all winter. Mrs. McKay accompanied him and they will be gone a week.

JURY OBTAINED IN BURNHAM CASE

Larceny By Mutual Reserve Insurance Company Officials Is the Offense Charged.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The jury to hear the case against George Burnham, Jr., trustee and counsel for the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company, on a charge of grand larceny, was completed today and Assistant District Attorney Nott entered the prosecution's case. He said the pecuniary benefit of the larceny of $7500 alleged against George Burnham, Jr., fell to Frederick A. Burnham, president of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company, but that George Burnham, Jr., was his accomplice and shared equally in his guilt. Nott said that J. Douglas Wells, a former vice president of the Mutual Reserve, had said Frederick A. Burnham and that the suit had been settled by the payment to Wells of $7500 from the funds of the company.

"In brief," said Nott, "the defendant and Frederick A. Burnham took the company's money and paid it to Wells' attorney for the settlement of a suit brought against him on a personal loan and entered it on the company's books as a payment of another matter. We will prove that the policy holder's money was looted by these defendants so that the suit of Wells could not be accounted in court, and concealed by making false entries."

INVESTIGATING ROAD CLAIMS

Grand Jury Committee Has
Session With Supervisors.

Assessor's Office Is Also Subject to Inquiry By Inquisitors.

The committee of the grand jury appointed by Foreman Phillips to investigate the Board of Supervisors spent yesterday in the examination of the seventy-five bills turned in by Supervisor Burleigh for road work in his district in the two months preceding the last election and concerning the payment of which there has been so much said by the other members of the board and the public at large.

Supervisor Beall and Burleigh were before the committee the most of both days and the bills were thoroughly gone into. Foreman Phillips said last night that so far as the form of Burleigh's bills is concerned that they are made out as carefully as the bills of the other supervisors with the exception of Supervisor Johnson, whose bills are as carefully made out as the bills in any other business would be made out.

The point under investigation by the supervisors' committee of the grand jury is whether or not the bills turned in are for road work or for campaign expenses of Supervisor Burleigh, as has been charged by several members of the Board of Supervisors. This is likely what Supervisor Beall has been called upon to testify as he has made the statement in open meeting of the board that the bills were for campaign work.

Just what the committee found out, the members will not say, and no definite information on the subject will be given until the committee makes its report to the grand jury on the 17th of next month.

The committee appointed to examine into the affairs of the assessor's office spent yesterday in the office of that county official looking over the records of the office. This committee is going into the matter of the collection of personal taxes by the assessor's office, in the collection of which it has been alleged that there is a great temptation for favoritism in the assessment rolls of the county.

INVITATIONS TO OFFICERS OF MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

Mayor Sends Authorization to Delegate to Fresno Convention.

Mayor Lyon yesterday sent out invitations to the officials of the city that may be represented here in the convention of the Municipal League of California on the 12th, 13th and 14th of next month. The invitation is extended to the elected officers of the city and the chairmen of all the city departments.

The documents are in the form of a quarterly license, are numbered consecutively, and are stamped with the official gold seal of the City of Fresno. They read as follows:

"Satisfactory evidence having been furnished as to the good moral character of the parties herein named, permission is hereby granted to the officials of the city to occupy the streets, lanes, alleys, courts, parks and public places of the City of Fresno, during the 12th, 13th and 14th days of December, 1906, and longer if they so desire, and to enjoy the freedom of said city without molestation or hindrance, and to participate in the proceedings of the League of California Municipalities, the meeting of which we hold at the time stated. Your presence is earnestly desired."

"By order of the mayor and the board of trustees."

SANGER-SELMA FOOTBALL GAME

Millwood Lumber Season Is Closed.

Orange Packing Is Now in Full
Blast for the Whole
County.

SANGER, Nov. 27.—The Sanger High school football team will play Selma High school on the gridiron at Selma Thanksgiving day. The Sanger Huskies are in trim and they expect to become victors in this important event. Following is the line-up of the local team: Left half, Allen Barr; full back, Ralph Decker; right half, Walton Cobb; quarter back, Walter Minville; center, Add. Hall; right guard, Frank Carlisle; left guard, Anson Gerner; right tackle, Clarence Williams; left tackle, Fay Morrow; left end, Hugh McLaughlin; right end, Jesse Adams; substitutes, Le Roy Carlisle and Elmer Cotton.

Last Friday the big mills were closed down in the hills. The weather has been disagreeable in the mountains of late, and for that reason operations were cut short. There is a general exodus of men, taking all the available stages and many private teams to leave the office. Fifty more men have been retained in the yards at Millwood for a few days and daily shipments will continue as long as the weather will admit. There is a big supply of lumber in the local yards, and the mill here will continue running full-handed through the winter season.

The orange packing season is in full blast. Four packing houses are running at full capacity. All of the orange packing of Fresno county is being done at Sanger this year, owing to the fact that two graders have been installed here. The crop this year is not large, though the quality is high.

Chester Takuberry, of class '06 of the Sanger High school, who had the misfortune to lose his right hand while working about a machine in Anderson's planing mill, last week, is recovering rapidly. The mill workers' union, of which he was a member, will meet Wednesday night and plan to a benefit entertainment in his behalf.

"UNCLE JOSH PERKINS" AT OPERA HOUSE

Thanksgiving Attraction for the
Barton Is a Fun Maker.

The Thanksgiving attraction at the Barton tomorrow matinee and night will be the great fun-maker, "Uncle Josh Perkins," playing to popular prices of 10, 25, 50 and 75 cents, matinee 25 cents. Regarding this attraction the critic of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer had the following to say:

For wholesome fun, interspersed with delicate touches of pathos, unfolding a healthy and instructive moral, "Uncle Josh Perkins," put on at the Seattle theater last night by the Fresno company is one of the cleverest pieces of its kind seen at the theater for some time.

There are many distinct types of human nature depicted, and the company handles the play well. It is a natural picture of life in the rural districts with the delightful simplicity and hardy purity of the pastoral scenes.

As Uncle Josh Bert Hodgkins was excellent. With a rare skill he depicted the character of the old farmer in his long search for the daughter who had been lost when a baby, and he showed an appreciation of the lines which was refreshing and entertaining. As Riram Green, a farm hand, this Knight made a hit with the audience. Without overlooking the part he yet gave such a clever satire on the ignorant, foolish and yet good-hearted farmer that the effect was clever.

One of the features of the play is that there is no scene overdrawn, which is rare in rural dramas. It is the simple life of the country against which the lower life of the city is contrasted, and it is well done. The "Hoosier Band" is clever, and gained merited applause. The play will run the week with a Thursday and Saturday matinee.

WEATHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Forecast: San Joaquin valley—Cloudy Wednesday; fresh south winds.

FRESNO, Nov. 27.—Official readings at 5 p. m.: Temperature, dry bulb, 51; Temperature, wet bulb, 42; Humidity, 65; Wind (S. E.), miles per hour, 5; Maximum Temperature, 51; Minimum Temperature, 35; Cloudy, Wednesday.

The storm central yesterday over Minnesota and Wisconsin has moved rapidly eastward, being now central over New England and the St. Lawrence valley. This disturbance has caused light rain or snow over Texas, Oklahoma, portions of the Missouri, Mississippi and Ohio valleys, the Lake region and New England. Warm, generally cloudy weather prevails throughout the eastern states. An area of abnormally high pressure dominates about three-fourths of the country, its major axis extending from Western Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, with continued clear, cold weather over the interior. Light showers occurred over Southern California as a result of relatively low pressure in that region. Frost occurred over Middle and Northern California. The pressure conditions indicate fair, warmer weather at Fresno and vicinity, followed by cloudy Wednesday.

CHARGE DENSER WITH FRAUD

WITH FRAUD

to Suit on Policy.

Insurance Order Files Answer

Proceedings in Upper Court

Yesterday Afternoon—

Probate Matters.

That Carl Denser, who died on the first day of July of last year, and whose father is now suing the Hains City Lodge, Fraternal Brotherhood, for $1000 insurance, obtained his good standing in the lodge by swearing that he was well when he knew himself to be seriously ill, is the statement made in an answer to the suit filed yesterday afternoon by the defendants.

The answer admits that Denser was in good standing and that after he was reinstated in February, 1904, that he kept up his dues, but says that the reinstatement was obtained by false testimony. It is claimed that Denser was ill at that time with the malady that ended in his death a year later and that he knew his true condition at that time that he applied to be reinstated in the lodge. Davis, Kemp & Post of Los Angeles are attorneys for the lodge and Burns & Hill are attorneys for Denser.

A suit to quiet title was brought yesterday afternoon by Cynthia H. Oliver against E. M. Harris as administrator for the estate of William Malott, deceased. The suit involves some town lots in Selma.

The suit of N. P. Jensen against Mary L. and Edith M. Jensen for $255 for failure to comply with the terms of a contract entered into some time ago for improvements done on land owned by the plaintiff, was argued before Judge Austin yesterday afternoon. The defendants filed a counter suit for $1375. G. W. Cherry and N. C. Caldwell are attorneys for the defendant and Sutherland & Harbour for the plaintiff. The case was taken under advisement by the court.

Judge Austin yesterday settled the bill of exceptions in the case of Susie Walcott against the Pacific Vineyard company, which has been appealed to the Supreme court. Judgment was given the defendant on the 25th of last January.

Probate Matters.

A petition for the sale of real estate belonging to the estate of Elizabeth A. Allen will be heard on the 27th of next month.

John H. Duff yesterday petitioned for letters of administration in the estate of his wife, Rebecca A. Duff, deceased. The petition will be heard by the court on the 10th of next month.

The petition of L. P. Johnson for final distribution of the estate of Mary Johnson will be heard on the 10th of next month.

LOWER COURT DAILY GRIND

McMullen Bound Over on Charge of Assault.

Mrs. Martin Released on Charge of Drunkenness—

Vagrants Sentenced.

The case of Thomas McMullen, who is charged with assault with a deadly weapon, came up yesterday afternoon in Judge Briggs' court. Three witnesses were examined and the negro was bound over to appear in the higher court with bail set at $500. The defense attempted, throughout the hearing, to prove that the Chinese house in which the assault is alleged to have been committed, was a gambling den.

When the case was called at 2 o'clock, McMullen had no one to defend him. He stated that Attorney Foote had agreed to defend him, but Foote was not present. Judge Briggs granted the prisoner a recess of fifteen minutes in which to secure a legal adviser and McMullen returned with A. E. Snow to defend him.

The first witness examined was Leon Cheung, the Chinaman upon whom the assault was committed. It was necessary to secure an interpreter and H. Bea da Silva was sworn to do the work. The witness testified to having encountered the negro at his place of business on G street and told of his refusal to let McMullen enter the door. He stated that the intruder attempted to pass by and Cheung slammed the door in his face, after which McMullen shot four times into the heavy door. In the cross-examination Snow tried to show that the inner room to which the defendant tried to gain admittance was run as a gambling room and that the defendant was accustomed to enter the place at will.

The next witness examined was Leong Wong, employed by Leong Cheung as a salesman. He declared the place of business was conducted for the sale of cigars, tobacco and general merchandise. The witness further told of seeing McMullen draw the gun and fire the shots. Officer Kennedy was placed on the stand and testified concerning the arrest of the prisoner and the nature of the store in which the shooting took place, after which the judge bound the negro over on $500 bail.

The charge against McMullen, who is a brother of the man killed by Jess Truitt last summer, grew out of the shooting scrape in which he and another negro, named Henry Weeks, were implicated on the 17th of this month. Weeks had very little to do with the affair and was released. The two attempted to enter the place of Leong Cheung, saying they wanted to play the lottery. They were refused admittance and McMullen started to shoot. After their arrest they were taken before the Chinaman for identification whereupon he struck his accuser with his handkerchief and cut a deep gash in the latter's head.

YUBA DAM CAMP DESTROYED BY FIRE

Famous as Placer Camp and Immortalized by Bret Harte, It Is No More.

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 27.—Yuba Dam, once a famous mining camp and made more famous by Bret Harte's poem, is a thing of the past. What remained of the old camp was destroyed by fire early this morning. John Christensen was awakened when a part of his house fell in and he carried his unconscious wife to safety, after which his children were saved through a window in the upper story of the house. Christensen was badly injured, Yuba Dam was named by the miners in the early '50s. It was a prominent placer mining locality. In recent years it has consisted of a few small houses, a saloon, stables and shacks. The property loss amounted to about $2000.

SHORT TO GO TO WASHINGTON

Will Seek Changes in Forest Reserve Rules.

Tax on Electric Power Companies a Discrimination Against River Users.

Frank H. Short has announced that he is about to take a trip of four or five days to Washington, where he will attend upon the meetings of certain committees of congress and also interview the interior department in the interests of some of his clients.

Mr. Short will leave Fresno about Dec. 10th. Mrs. Short will accompany him. Mrs. Short will accompany him.

The principal purpose of Mr. Short's trip will be to secure for the San Joaquin Electric Power company, of which he is attorney, permission to use the water supply of streams within the forest reserves without the imposition of a tax which is about to be imposed by the interior department. This tax will be levied as a part of the general system of making the reserves part for the expense of maintenance by making charges against all who use them—hunting, stock and power men alike—but it is proposed to assess the tax against the power companies in proportion to the total electricity developed, rather than in proportion to the benefit received—an obviously unfair discrimination.

This tax will also be opposed by the power men on the ground that as far as they are concerned it is a discrimination against Western users of rivers as contrasted with Easterners. In speaking of the matter yesterday, Mr. Short said:

"The question raised is an important one, both to the electric companies and to the public. It will take a great deal of money to develop the electric power available in this State and the imposition of a tax, which may be increased from time to time, would retard development of this character and in a degree interfere with the sale of bonds.

"The electric companies would not object to paying for any materials or timber obtained or property actually occupied. The proposed tax, however, goes farther than a charge for the increased water supply, which the conservation service of the government is supposed to furnish. It will amount to a direct tax upon the production of electric power wherever permits are held in the forest reservation, whether much or little of the water is obtained from these sources or not and whether any increased flow is obtained.

"From the point of view of the public, we think the charge is unequal and unjust. The rivers of the East and Middle West states are useful to the public almost exclusively for navigation purposes. They are improved and maintained for navigation at the expense of the general government, of which we pay our part. The public use of irrigation and the development of electrical power will be the principal public benefits from Western rivers.

"The water for irrigation will render them unfit for navigation except only as to the principal rivers and as to the lower portions of these only, so that the government will not be justified in developing them beyond these lower portions for navigation.

"If the irrigators are required to reimburse the government for its expenditures in their behalf and the electric companies are taxed for the government service in the forest reservation, the West will be paying and returning to the government all or a greater part of the expense in connection with Western rivers and at the same time paying our part of maintaining the navigability of Eastern rivers. And, of course, ultimately this tax would become a part of the cost of producing electrical power and the public would pay most of it. This would be the same as if boats were taxed for the expense of improving navigable rivers. The tax would necessarily be added to the freightage.

"This is the basis of the policy of improving the rivers at national expense. Apparently the department has been trying to work out the idea of making the forest reservations self-sustaining, which is all well enough so long as it relates to the sale of timber or valuable lands permitted to be acquired or used. But when it comes to paying the expenses of maintaining and improving the flow of rivers, we are confronted with the policy of this being done at national expense where the rivers are navigable and at local expense where they are devoted to the public use of irrigation and the development of electric power. The discrimination would be clearly unjust as to Western interests and I feel confident that when it is thus understood, it will not be carried out.

"The electric companies build free roads into the reservation, maintain fire breaks and assist in extinguishing fires, and where reservoirs are constructed regulate the flow of rivers, diminishing the floods and increasing the flow during dry seasons. They are doing all during dry seasons. They are doing all during dry seasons. They are doing all during dry seasons.

Mr. Short also goes to Washington in the interest of certain oil men, whose claims to land patents have not been cleared up.

OAKLAND FOOTBALL TEAM ARRIVES TODAY

The Oakland High school football team will arrive this afternoon on the 3 o'clock Santa Fe train. The boys will be taken to their hotel and will probably do a little light sight practice to luller up their muscles after their day's journey. DRAGS FREEZING CHILD AROUND BY ITS FEET

F. Blanco Cruelly Mistreats Motherless Infant in Early Morning.

Heavily drunk and dragging his baby less than a year of age along the sidewalk by its feet, Frank Blanco was arrested early yesterday morning near the Santa Fe depot by Officer Fair. The man was placed in jail to recover from his intoxication and the baby was put in a hack and hurried to the county orphanage to be thawed out by the county's firehouse.

The mother of the unfortunate babe died at the hospital yesterday afternoon of typhoid fever. Immediately afterward the infant was placed in the county orphanage for care. On Monday morning the inhuman father appeared at the institution and asked for his child on the plea that he would take the little one to his parents who live in Modesto and in that way he would not be separated from it.

The next that was seen of Blanco was after midnight Monday night, when Officer Fair saw him dragging the infant head downward over the paved sidewalk near the Santa Fe. When arrested, Blanco said he was going to meet a train and go to Modesto. The babe had lost most of its wraps and was nearly frozen to death and too weak from exhaustion to utter a sound.

Last night the youngster seemed to have entirely recovered from the spell that its father treated it to, and Blanco will find grave charges against his name when he becomes sober enough to comprehend "The Fresno Humane society has taken up the case and will appear in court for the custody of the child.

WOODMEN ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Arrange for Joint Installation With Women of Woodcraft.

An unusually large attendance filled the lodge room of Manzanita Camp, W. O. W., last night, the occasion being the semi-annual election of officers. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Past consul commander, A. D. Ewing, consul commander, H. M. Johnston; advisor lieutenant, Ed Jones; banker, H. D. Carver (re-elected fourth year); clerk, George R. Andrews (re-elected fourth year); escort, B. A. Martin; watchman, J. V. Brown; sentry, R. L. York; manager, J. L. Hutchison.

An invitation was accepted from Aeneas Circle, Women of Woodcraft, to join with them in an old time social on Thursday evening, November 29th. The camp also accepted the invitation from the circle to hold a joint installation in the W. O. W. lodge room, Tuesday, January 3rd. One application was balloted upon and accepted. Shirley Faulkner was initiated. J. L. Lorbeck, a long absent member, was present and made an interesting speech. After the meeting adjourned all prepared to the banquet room to partake of popcorn, nuts and candy served up in good style by Ed Jones.

VALLEJO IS REFORMING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Secretary Bonaparte has received a telegram from the mayor of Vallejo, Cal., stating that by unanimous vote of the trustees of that city, which is adjacent to the Mare Island navy yard, the liquor license fee will be raised on Jan. 1st from $400 to $400 per year, and beginning at the same time saloons will be required to close at 1 a. m. and no all-night saloons will be licensed. After April 1st, next year, the number of saloons will be reduced to sixty.

Bonaparte has informed Mayor Madagan that if the regulations of the trustees are made effective by adequate enforcement he has no doubt that improved conditions satisfactory to the department would result. The undesirable conditions at Vallejo made it necessary for the navy department to warn the town several weeks ago that ships could not be sent to the Mare Island navy yard if the crews were to be thrown into the unwholesome atmosphere then prevailing at Vallejo.

VALLEJO, Cal., Nov. 27.—The text of the telegram received from Secretary Bonaparte by Mayor Madagan is as follows:

"Washington, Nov. 26, 1926.
"Hon. J. J. Madagan, Mayor, Vallejo—Your telegram was called to my attention on my return to Washington. I am gratified to know of the action of the trustees. If it is made effective by adequate enforcement, I have no doubt that improved conditions satisfactory to the department will result.
"HAK. J. BONAPARTE,
"Secretary of the Navy."

CARUSO WILL SING "RUDOLFO" TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Enrico Caruso, the grand opera tenor, took part in a rehearsal yesterday for the first time since his hearing in a police court began.

His throat was improved and Director Caruso is certain that the singer will be able to appear in his opening engagement at Radio City in "La Boheme" tomorrow night. Caruso, it was said, will be the star of the Metropolitan opera house, was not ready to announce yesterday what plans he had made to prevent any demonstration on Wednesday night.

WILL LEAVE MONEY TO THEIR UNION

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—An unusual devotion to the labor union in which they have served as members for a long term of years caused three cigar-makers to draw up their wills yesterday with special bequests in favor of the organization. The value of the bequests amounts to $1,500.

John McNamee took this method of celebrating the 70th anniversary of his birth. He bequeathed $500 to the Cigar-makers' Union. William Foster bequeathed a similar sum to the organization. John Porter left the members of the union $300 and stipulated that the sum should be used to "have a good time" at his funeral.

MADE DEATH SURE

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Addison H. Gilson, 41 years old, wife of a wealthy oilman of this city, committed suicide at her home today by taking a quantity of arsenic and then shooting herself twice. Mrs. Gilson had been ill for some months and of late had been despondent.

IS MUDDY LAKE MAN'S GRAVE?

C. N. Crawford Missing from Fowler Home.

Boat in Which He Went Fishing Found in Bottom of Pond.

Columbus N. Crawford, a blacksmith of Fowler, is thought to have been drowned in Brander's lake near Fowler sometime since last Sunday afternoon, when he took a row boat and started on a hunting and fishing trip. Since that time nothing has been heard of the old man and the boat which he started out in has been discovered turned upside down in the bottom of the lake. Searching parties have been scouring the lake and shore for some time of the missing man, but up till a late hour last night they had been unsuccessful in their efforts.

Crawford, who is a man over 50 years of age, is accustomed to take a trip for hunting and fishing on Sunday afternoons and he secured the key to the boat, which is kept locked at the landing, from his son-in-law, Louis Rosser of Fowler, last Sunday. No great alarm was felt until Monday, when the old blacksmith failed to show up for work, and then a party of friends and relatives took up the search. It was not until yesterday that any sign of Crawford was found, when at about 10 o'clock in the forenoon the upturned capsized boat of the old sportsman was discovered.

Having heard nothing of the missing man for over two days, and finding the sunken boat would indicate that the blacksmith's body lies in the soft mud at the bottom of this lake. The water in the pond, which is known as Brander's lake, is muddy and the whole stretch of about twenty acres will have to be dragged to find if the body of the missing man is there. At the place where the boat was discovered the water is about four feet deep, while the other side of the lake is fifteen or twenty feet deep. Crawford may have landed the boat and gone on shore, the boat drifting away again, but it is more probable that in shooting from the craft, he overturned it and being quite a distance from land, was drowned. Searching parties are still raking the lake bottom with grappling hooks. Crawford never left home before without notifying his relatives, and this would indicate that he has not with a mishap. The missing man has three daughters in San Francisco and his wife has been visiting them for the last few weeks. Rosser's wife, who is Crawford's daughter, died a short while ago from injuries received in a fire.

CHICAGO JEW ROAST POLICE

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Denouncing the Chicago police as "bullies" and "tyrants," and Chicago justices as "ridiculous," the recently formed Hebrew Protective association announced last night its determination to abandon direct appeal to the police department in cases of "Jew baiting," and conduct its fight by vigilante committee methods.

Details of the association's plans were given at a meeting held at the West Side Auditorium. Nearly a quarter of the audience was made up of alleged victims of the rowdies.

Some had their heads swathed in bandages. Others limped or carried crutches. All were eager to lay their cases before the organization and obtain their aid. And to this very one talked at once, until the meeting broke up in disorder from sheer excess of enthusiasm.

The association is preparing to conduct a campaign almost wholly independent of the city authorities. A private detective force is to be organized, made up partly of amateurs and partly of men from detective agencies. A medical staff will be formed to care for victims of riots without charge and a legal department will collect evidence and conduct prosecutions.

To aid Jews who are unable to give the police satisfactory accounts of themselves, and are detained for this reason, each member of the association is to be known by a number, and the badge bearing this number and the telephone number of the association will be worn.

More than twenty cases of Jews injured or robbed were laid before the executive committee of the association at a session held at the close of the mass meeting.

CHANCELLOR ANDREWS' WAR UPON TOBACCO
Nebraska University Students Must Not Chew Nor Spit Around the Place.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Lincoln, Neb., says Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews has taken another step toward driving tobacco from the campus was prohibited a year ago. Yesterday a new order was issued against chewing and spitting. Members of the law classes are threatened with expulsion if they persist in chewing and spitting tobacco around the corridors and in the corners of the classrooms.

LOS ANGELES WITHOUT GAS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—For the past thirty-six hours Los Angeles has been practically without gas, as an indirect result of the cool weather, which brought on a largely increased consumption of fuel, and an oversteering of the gas mains, which proved too small to accommodate the demand, and the final breaking down of a large part of the machinery in the gas plants. As a consequence, practically the entire city has suffered from a lack of fuel and light and many hardships have been entailed.

Much danger has been experienced in the absence of gas in the mains and the leaving of gas cocks open. The newspapers have published warnings to residents about leaving the jets open, but notwithstanding, at least one asphyxiation has resulted and several narrow escapes have occurred. Today Gus Sevenson, a Belgian, was found dead in his room in a lodging house at 432 East Third street, having been overcome from gas which had streamed into his room through an open cock.

The gas company promises improvement, but on account of the small size of the gas mains it is doubtful if the demand for fuel can be supplied. The price of wood and coal has gone skyward and dealers have found it impossible to supply the demand.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electric company is the one affected. The People's Gas company, a smaller concern, has no difficulty with their supply. About noon today the officials of the former company announced that the fault had been largely remedied and no further trouble would be experienced. At that time there appeared to be plenty of gas in the mains, but later in the day when the consumption of gas increases, it is not unlikely that consumers will again experience difficulty.

FROM THE DIX
PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Nov. 27.—A life belt bearing the word "Dix," with a woman's glove attached to it, was picked up on the beach at Port Flagger today. The life preserver was found more than twenty miles from the scene of the wreck.

SCHMITZ DUE TODAY
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Mayor Schmitz is expected to arrive here tomorrow evening. He will be met at the state house by Abraham Ruef and a number of friends, who will accompany him to the city. The supporters of Mayor Schmitz have planned to give him a warm welcome on his arrival here.

FOR CLEAN SPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—President Murray Butler, of Columbia University, does not favor any radical change in the method of administration of athletic sports now in force at Columbia. He does believe, however, that some minor changes should be made in the interests of clean sport and better scholarship and that, at the same time, an effort should be made to secure widespread participation by students in athletic sports.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY ADVERTISED FOR SALE

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Borough Collector George P. Bordow of Madison, N. J., has advertised the sale of the Drew Theological seminary, a Times special says, for $400 back taxes.

The claim made by the borough attorney is that only five acres of ground to each building is free from taxes under the law exempting institutions of this kind, and that, as there are ten buildings, fifty acres of ground only is exempt. The case has been in the courts for some time.

The property was bequeathed for educational purposes by Daniel Drew in 1850 and was opened on Nov. 26th of that year. It was purchased by Drew for $270,000. Since 1867 more than $300,000 has been spent for a library, Hoyt Towne hall, Ashbury hall and the administration buildings.

BROOKLYN BRIDGE NEW YORK'S PROBLEM

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The daily crush of the Brooklyn bridge is receiving the earnest attention of Mayor McCellan and other city officials. At a conference yesterday important plans for temporary relief were discussed. Longer trains and increased headway, it is expected, will bring temporary relief.

Plans for permanent relief include an almost entire rebuilding of the bridge. Doubletracking will probably be resorted to in order to make room for additional lines of railroad trucks. The engineers have informed the mayor that the stress on the anchor bors is only a third of their capacity and that the doubletracking of the structure is entirely feasible. This form of relief, however, will be a matter of years. Disastrous scenes at the terminal during what are known as "rush" hours have led to a strong public demand for relief from prevailing conditions.

NEBRASKA POLITICS HAS BEEN CLEANS

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews, chancellor of the University of Nebraska, addressing a Brown alumni dinner tonight, said: "Out in Nebraska, we have a little quiet political revolution. Twenty-five years ago Nebraska was Republican and a more rotten situation existed nowhere on this earth. And that is saying a great deal. The Populists overthrew the Republicans, but the latter have gained power and are now fully back. Now that is not peculiar, but it is peculiar that the Republicans, without compulsion, have reformed their party until the set of men just elected are the best men, it seems, that Nebraska has ever had in office. The best moral sense of the party has triumphed.

COLON, Nov. 27.—Spanish laborers continue to arrive to assist in the work of building the canal, over 100 reaching Colon yesterday. They are giving entire satisfaction.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS

The beauty and fashion of the socially elect were represented last night at the gorgeous ball masque given by the Escholtz family at the Hughes hotel, the second of a series of delightful dances with which the club is entertaining this season. It was a brilliant affair that swept down the broad stairs leading from the mezzanine floor to the ball room, dainty shepherdesses with crooked walking sticks, maidens, bewitching belles, stately court ladies and colonial dames with galleons in attendance, besides innumerable costumes in comic fashion to add zest to the fun and abundance of high spirits which held carnival during the masking hours.

There is nothing like a masquerade for genuine enjoyment, particularly when the essential quality—good humor—prevails and each man, maid and nutron is on pleasure bent. It seemed like the good old days of several years back when Fresno was not quite so grown up and social affairs had not assumed such formal manners as of late. Everyone was in high glee and felt a deep sense of gratitude to the club for its successful carrying out of well laid plans. The decorations were quite the most attractive and dainty seen in some time. Miss Seibert, who was in charge, had hung garlands of smilax in portiere fashion between the Jumble arched leading from the ball room into the punch room beyond and from a central point swung a dainty ball of huckleberry whose glossy leaves make a most effective decoration. Data palms and quantities of feathery plumes contrasted effectively with the ivory white wood work of the pillars and panelling while in every possible corner were lanked potted plants and palms. The pillars were entwined with delicate vines and a tracery of the same pretty green showed along the panels of the walls. Exquisite garlands of smilax and huckleberry for central decoration and some big pink chrysanthemums added another dainty touch of color to the charming hall. Filled with its galaxy of homely and costumed men and women, it was a gorgeous sight and was witnessed by a number who came as spectators of the brilliant affair.

Dancing began promptly at 9 o'clock to music furnished by the Reitz orchestra, and masks were not removed until about 10:30, when the dancing discovered friends appeared and no longer could conceal one's identity. The merriment continued until past midnight. The costumes represented a charming variety and among them were some costly and beautiful ones of elaborate design.

A noticeable group included Mrs. Lee Gray, Mrs. Frank Gray, Miss Alice Drou, Miss Violet Hodgkin as Turkish girls. Lee Gray and Frank Gray were in sultan costume completing a jolly and very picturesque group.

Judge and Mrs. George E. Church were the most striking and elegant costumes of the evening, representing high Chinese dignitaries. The characters were admirably sustained. Miss Birdie Woods and Miss Emily Eggers completed this clever group.

Mrs. W. H. Matson and W. F. Torrey attracted much attention as typical Irish peasants. The costumes were perfect in every detail and formed a complete disguise.

Mrs. A. J. Hudson was handsome and striking as a Pierrot with red tulle blouse and black velvet with red tulle skirt.

Mrs. H. A. Pratt made a picturesque Dolly Parton in pink, which contrasted beautifully with her dark hair and eyes.

Mrs. W. P. Lyon made a charming Cleopatra in a beautiful Egyptian costume.

Mrs. DelWitt Gray as a Dresden shepherdess was charmingly picturesque in pink silk and roses, with a shepherdess crook.

Miss Eugenia Miller's costume showed much originality and was exceedingly fetching, representing a Christmas tree. A white foundation served as a background for the ornaments and on her head was a crown of candles.

Miss Alinee Newman was a bewitching Norman maid, her long braids of jet black hair gleaming against the snowiness of her white frock.

Miss Anna Morawski as a puppie attracted a great deal of notice. She looked very handsome, indeed, in her yellow costume.

Mrs. J. G. Worman was a dainty little tumbourine girl and Mr. Worman made a capital Chinese in effective costume.

Mrs. Terry Burnham was a stately colonial dame and Miss Brosnan was a fetching little Japanese girl.

Miss Elizabeth Kennedy made a captivating Juliet, who was much admired.

Miss Decker of Oakland was an attractive Fairy.

Of the men, Lionel Dalton as Sunny Jim sustained a most amusing character. Will Holmes was a gallant colonial bean and Russell Ritchie was a knight of old.

F. E. Cook was a stunning yachtman and Mrs. Cook a charming "smilax lady." Many of the men came in dominoes until after the unmasking.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Davidson entertained last night at a delightful little dinner for Miss Mildred Horick and her friends and the members of their bridal party. It was a truly bridey dinner with the wedding colors of green and white suggested in the lovely table decorations formed of tulle, satin ribbons and narcissus. In the center of the big round table was a plaque of narcissus and fern charmingly arranged with white tulle and green satin ribbon. Dainty silver bonbon dishes contained green candies and the candies which lighted the pretty table were shaded in green. On gold monogrammed place cards were appropriate verses which were read with much joy by the guests who included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Short, Miss Rurick, Miss Laurel Moody, Miss Eleanor Hodgkin, Miss Frank Craycroft, Miss Jennie Wilson, Messrs. W. W. Craycroft, Harry Craycroft, Barton Wheeler of San Francisco, W. C. Fitzmaur, Will Wharton, Dr. Tom Madden.

After the dinner the party went to the church for the rehearsal which has become a necessity of an elaborate church function, and later in masquerade costume many of the young people went to the dance.

There was a quiet wedding ceremony yesterday at high noon at St. James Episcopal church uniting in wedlock Miss Anna Greene Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Wilson, and Frank William McCormick, a popular young business man of this city. The wedding was scheduled to take place on Thanksgiving day but impatient young Cupid hurried matters up and about forty of the most intimate friends and relatives of the happy young pair gathered at the church yesterday to witness the service, which was read by the Reverend Harvey Hanson. The bride, who has pretty brunette coloring, was becomingly gowned in charming traveling suit of golden brown with hat to match. She carried bride's roses and ferns and was a most attractive picture. Her sister, Miss Mamie Wilson, in a gown of pale gray and gray hat was maid of honor. Her flowers were pink roses. Will Wharton supported the groom as best man. Following the church service, about twenty of the wedding guests were taken to a dainty wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Floyd Hinton, on the corner of L and Tuolumne streets.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in green and white and the wedding table was decked in carnations and ferns. It was a very merry feast with toasts to the bride and groom, wishing them God speed on their wedding journey and through the longer journey of life. A honeymoon of several weeks is being spent in San Francisco and about the bay. The young people will make their home in Fresno, where Mr. McCormick is engaged in the insurance business. Both the groom and his pretty bride have hosts of warm friends here who will give them a cordial welcome upon their return to Fresno.

The friends of Dr. Walter Hughes, a former Fresno, now living in Alameda, will be interested in the news of his recent wedding in the bay city. Dr. Hughes is a nephew of Thomas H. Hughes, a former prominent Fresno and cousin of Mrs. W. D. End. He graduated from the Fresno High school in '04 and has many friends who will be interested in the following from the San Francisco Call: Two of the Sierra club's most prominent members have become engaged as a result of congenial companionship in the last summer outing of that organization. Miss Lily Hoff, formerly of San Francisco, will wed an Alamedan, Dr. Walter Renwick Hughes. It was in the romantic region of Kings River canyon, the acquaintance of the young couple began. Miss Hoff is talented as well as attractive. She received her A. B. degree from the University of California and ranked as the highest in her class in scholarship, being awarded the gold medal that year. One year later she received the degree of M. A. from Stanford university. Dr. Hughes is also a graduate of the University of California and is well known in Alameda's social and professional circles. Since the Dr. and Miss Hoff have made her home at 1000 Sherman street, Alameda.

Misses Georgia and Eva Clark are at home for their Thanksgiving holidays. Miss Eva from Stanford and Miss Georgia from the Girls' Collegiate in Los Angeles. The latter brought with her a school friend, Miss E. Day of Keokuk, Iowa, for a visit.

Miss Bonnie Carter will arrive today from Stanford for a few days' visit with her parents, Judge and Mrs. Stanton L. Carter, at their apartments in the Forsyth building.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shaver with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Romai have returned from a most interesting automobile tour to Los Angeles. The party went down by the coast route, returning via Bakersfield, and had the finest kind of automobile luck. They were gone about two weeks and visited a number of the southern beaches. Miss Grace Shaver was with them in Los Angeles, going down by train and returning with her sister, Miss Ethel, who has been studying at the Girls' Collegiate in Los Angeles.

The ladies of the Congregational church are planning for a fancy work bazaar on December 15th to be held at 1010 J street. Besides the dainty fancy articles so acceptable for Christmas gifts, there will be refreshments also on sale.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

New York State Election and What It Cost.

Some Remarkable Results of Recent Legislation Compelling Publicity.

By the average New Yorker reasonably familiar with political campaigning in the past it will no doubt be promptly confessed that he sees nothing startling, nothing shocking, nothing alarming, even, in the official reports of contributions and expenditures filed at Albany by the various party committees and candidates this week. Such things have for years been matters of common knowledge in certain inner circles, and the publicity given to them this year under the new law merely widens the field of popular information on this point. But these reports are extremely interesting in some of their details—more especially in the sources of the donations, in the contrasts and comparisons presented and in what some of these suggest.

The Republican state committee raised $10,000 from contributions and borrowed $20,000 from its "well-fixed" and accommodating chairman, the Honorable Timothy L. Woodruff of Brooklyn; it expended all but $1,012 of the aggregate, has some bills yet to pay, and doesn't seem to be a bit concerned about where the money is coming from with which to pay "Tim" back. He had already given $10,000 as a personal donation—making $30,000 in all—but he probably got a good deal of satisfaction out of "running" the campaign and may possibly see where his thing will prove to have been a profitable investment when party obligations come in for discharge by the conferring of party honors in the future.

There were no corporate contributions to any of the committees or candidates. The "public conscience," it will be recalled, was recently "aroused" against that sort of thing as distinctly and shockingly immoral. Still, numerous individuals and firms with extensive corporate connections "gave up" liberally to the Republican cause. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan contributed $25,000, for instance, and Levi T. Morgan & Co. a similar amount. Had the Steel corporation and the Morton Trust company donated this $50,000, scores of good, well-meaning citizens would no doubt have held up their hands in holy horror and protest and have declared that such a thing was nothing short of bribery—that it meant the purchase of future favors from the Hughes administration and "immunity from prosecution" by the Republican courts. There is such an enormous difference, you know, between twelve-dees and twelve-dime!

There is one significant absence from the lists of the contributors in general—the names of men that in any way suggest the life insurance business. The companies were not solicited, of course, and one can easily imagine all the chairmen and candidates—even "Finger" Conners—sending back voluntary personal contributions from that quarter. It would be "tainted money!" How our life insurance folk must smile in their sleeves when they note their new-born immunity from pocket-lapping by the campaign solicitors!

The Democratic state committee raised $75,397 and spent practically the whole of it. The raising must have been much easier than the spending—for William Randolph Hearst put up $37,000 of the amount and William A. Chaulet, his running mate, $5,000—about 75 per cent of the aggregate—while of the balance about half came from one contributor, besides $1,000 in cash from Arthur Brisbane in addition to whole carloads of gray matter contributed by the Hearst reduction process to ink-and-paper. It will be noted that the Conners committee struggled along with a meager fund only about one-fourth the size of the Woodruff signers of war. But that doesn't signify anything. Hearst has only recently made out at Albany that he spent $250,000 for election expenses that didn't elect. So the Democratic state campaign cost slightly more than that of the Republicans. It cost $668,000 to tell the people of New York how to vote for a governor this year—no account being taken of county campaigns—and then to get them out to the polls on election day. The results, however, appear to fully justify the expenditure.

While hundreds of prominent business men—chiefly in New York City, too, but it is noted—in no wise identified with politics contributed to the Republican state committee fund, it is only by a most diligent and thorough search that one discovers a business man's name here and there among the Democratic donors; the latter are chiefly professional politicians, office-holders and office-seekers. And the contrast is both striking and significant.

A melancholy reminder of a former local canvass is the report of the "judiciary nominators," so called, who tried to keep the Hearst-Murphy candidates in New York county off the Supreme court bench—but failed. They raised $100,150 and spent all but $163 of it. The terrible possibilities that it suggests in the way of clothing unworthy men with the judicial ermine, if only they can secure nominations through "deals" between cheap bosses and unscrupulous demagogues with money at command, the well-calculated strengthening of the argument for the appointment of Supreme court justices by popular election. That $100,000 of the "judiciary nominators" was more than wasted. Had it been a million dollars, with every conscientious lawyer in the district on the stump for the clean ticket, it could not have stemmed the tide of Hearstism in New York county this year. There is a solemn lesson in the figures telling the cost of this failure.

As yet, the law does not compel a candidate to make public the money spent by him to secure a nomination. If it did, what a tale would the Hearst record unfold! Shall we never know what he paid for that remnant of the wreck of the Democratic party at Buffalo—and who got the millions?

MEXICO ASKS ASSISTANCE

Begs Pardee to Stop Sale of Arms to Yaquis.

Attempts to Subdue Unruly Indians Fruitless at Present.

(Sacramento Bee.)
The depredations being committed on the borders of southern California and Mexico by the Yaqui Indians have assumed an importance and aspect that add fuel to international complications between the governments of the United States and Mexico.
Unless Governor Pardee can find some way to prevent certain lawless parties in this state from selling weapons and ammunition to the Indians, thus enabling the latter to carry on their murderous raids against the defenseless ranchmen on the border, the matter of preventing such sales may be taken up by the government of Mexico itself and may lead to difficulties between the two countries.

For some time it has been the habit of careless and unheeding persons in the southern part of the State to engage in the practice of selling guns and ammunition to the raiding bands of border Yaqui, regardless of the harm which resulted.

The Indians, after receiving the arms, would return to Mexico and continue their depredations. The Mexican government has made every effort to quell the Yaqui, but with little success. It has now appealed to Governor Pardee, requesting him to prohibit the further sale of arms and ammunition by citizens of this State, alleging that is the cause to a considerable extent for the troubles now existing on the border.

The government of Mexico has taken formal action through its consul at San Francisco. She has ordered her representative to write to Pardee, and ask that he take immediate steps to have the evil practice of supplying the Yaqui with arms stopped.

Police But Firm.
This the Mexican consul at San Francisco has done. His letter was received by Governor Pardee this morning. It is polite in every detail, yet the meaning cannot be mistaken. It is a firm request that the executive of the State of California see to it that no more arms and ammunition are supplied to the Yaqui Indians by persons residing in this State.

It was stated at the governor's office this morning that as the matter was an urgent one it would be looked into at once. Although Pardee is perfectly willing to do all in his power to keep up the peaceful relations on the border, it can be easily seen he has quite a task before him. This order, if it is given, that no more arms shall be sold the Yaqui, will be as hard to enforce as the present one forbidding the sale of liquor to Indians. It remains to be seen what effect the failure to prevent certain lawless persons from selling the forbidden weapons will have upon the government of Mexico. The letter of the Mexican consul follows:

"His Excellency, George C. Pardee, Governor of California.
"Sir—His Excellency, Ignacio Mariscal, secretary of foreign affairs of Mexico, directs me to address you, as I beg most respectfully to do, the request that you may be pleased to take such action as may be necessary to have the sale of arms and ammunition on the frontier and in the border of California to Yaqui Indians prevented.
"Your Excellency is undoubtedly acquainted with the fact that it is due to such supply of arms and ammunition to said Indians which has enabled them to keep up a murderous and predatory state of disorder in that portion which they occupy in the neighboring state of Sonora. Without this facility to supply themselves with such arms and ammunition their depredations will be greatly curtailed to the great benefit of public safety, so frequently menaced, to the detriment of both Mexican and American interests.
"His Excellency the governor of Arizona has had the deference to prohibit the sale of liquor to Indians, and it is the hope of my government that your Excellency may lend your effective co-operation in the same manner to so benefit a public purpose.
"With assurances of my highest regard and respect, I remain, your Excellency's most obedient servant.
"Consul General de Mexico."

GOURD "BIG STICK" FOR THE PRESIDENT
Trust Busting Democratic Friends of Marion, Ohio, Sent Him a Present.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 27.—A "big stick" provided by nature is on the way to the president, according to the Post today. In a special dispatch from Marion, O., it is announced that Congressman Grant E. Mouser of that city last night received a large gourd from one of his constituents with a note requesting that it be delivered to the president. The gourd is about four feet long and is said to resemble the published pictures of the "big stick." Attached to the gourd was the following message:

"Mr. Roosevelt:—Please accept this 'big stick' and send to congress attached to your next message, and tell them to be good. It was apparently designed by Providence for your official use. From your trust busting Democratic admirers of Marion, O."

Service and Quality

When you get glasses you doubtless want something a little better than the ordinary. You have but one pair of eyes and for those you can afford the best. We believe we give just a little better service and a higher quality optical merchandise than you'll find ordinarily.

The cost to us is slightly more, but we think the satisfaction gained for our patrons is well worth the difference. Then too the price we charge you is no more than you pay for just ordinary service and regular quality at many places. Let us do your optical work. We will please you.

FIVE BALLOONISTS WISH TO COMPETE

Aero Club of America Will Have to Hold an Elimination Race.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—An elimination race in ballooning is practically assured next year to pick the American representatives for the Gordon Bennett international cup competition, which will be held in this country. It was announced last night after a meeting of the directors of the Aero club of America that four applications from American aeronauts had been received.

As the conditions of the contest stipulate that only three balloons shall represent each country, an elimination race, or some other test of ability, must be arranged by the American club in choosing its competitors. The applications already received are from Dr. Julian P. Thomas, J. C. McCoy, Leo Stevens and Charles Walsh.

Lieutenant Frank P. Lahn, who won the cup this year in the French race, will be in the field again, so that five American representatives are candidates for the team.

GASPIE THUGS IN HOSPITAL WARD

Trial of Dahner and Siemsen Was Continued By Their Victim's Bedside.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—In a ward at the Japanese hospital where A. Sasaki, cashier of the Kimmon Ginko, who was recently nearly beaten to death by the gaspie murderers, is being slowly nursed back to life. Police Judge Shortall held court this morning. It was a continued session in the preliminary examination of John Siemsen and Louis Dahner, and the self-confessed murderers listened disinterestedly while the injured man told what he knew of their crimes.

Sasaki could tell nothing of what transpired in the bank on October 3rd, when Manakata, the manager, was murdered and he was almost killed. But his mind was clear as to the incidents of the day before and he positively identified Siemsen as the man who had called on him at that time.

The testimony of Sasaki closed the case for the prosecution.

PITTSBURG BRIBERY SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Councilman and President of Railroad Company Furnished Bail and Were Released.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—City Councilman W. A. Martin, charged with bribery in connection with the Tube City Railroad franchise scandal, was arrested at his home today and locked up at central police station together with C. S. Cameron, president of the Tube City Railroad company.

Upon furnishing the required bail, both men were released. A number of members of both branches of the council are reported to be under surveillance.

It was alleged today that $40,000 of the $70,000 which went astray and caused all the trouble was to have been distributed among sixty-nine councilmen.

UNION PACIFIC'S ANNUAL REPORT

Surplus for the Year Was $8,032,499 After Providing for Betterments.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27. The annual report of the Union Pacific system for 1906 shows gross transportation receipts of $67,281,542, an increase over 1905 of $17,550,053 and other income of $10,329,815, an increase of $1,833,056. The surplus for the year, after payment of fixed charges, dividends and appropriations for betterments, additions and new equipment was $8,032,499, an increase of $812,068. The sum of $4,200,000 was devoted to betterments, additions and new equipment and $2,200,000 was charged to operating expenses, as a reserve fund for maintenance, renewals, etc.

CONTROLLER NYE
A NEWSPAPER MAN

Governor Pardee's New Appointment Is Highly Regarded at State Capitol.

State Controller A. B. Nye, who was appointed state controller by Governor Pardee, is a newspaper man and has been engaged in the work for many years prior to coming to Sacramento to fill the responsible post of private secretary to the governor, says the Union of Sacramento. He is a native of this state and first made his start in the newspaper world in Vallejo, when he was 17 years old. He went to work on the Vallejo Chronicle, and his first duties were those of printer's devil. He started at the bottom and learned the business thoroughly, but drifted from the business through the editorial end. He was born in Stockton, but when a small child his parents removed from this state and went to the East. His life up to his seventeenth year was spent in Massachusetts, where he was educated.

From a reporter on the Vallejo Chronicle, Mr. Nye went to the Dixon Tribune, which he purchased. He published that paper for several years, and then went to San Francisco, where he was employed as editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and after a time filled the same position on the San Francisco Post.

Then he removed to Oakland, and with Frank Leach started the Oakland Enquirer, making it a daily paper. The work on the Enquirer occupied his attention for many years, and in time he sold out his interest, but continued as managing editor until he was called to Sacramento as private secretary to Governor Pardee.

Mr. Nye has been in public life for many years and is one of the best known newspaper men in the state. As private secretary to the governor he has been before the public a great deal and has a wide reputation, not only for his courteous and genial treatment of those with whom he came in contact, but for his sound judgment and executive ability in handling the many delicate cases that have been thrown into his department.

The general expression at the capital yesterday, when the news of the appointment was made known, was that it is a good one, and that Mr. Nye is eminently fitted to fill the place. State officers and attaches at the capital flocked to the governor's office and congratulated Mr. Nye on his appointment.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY VS. CANAL

Sub-Committee Appointed By Terminal Rate Committee to Get Facts Together on Which a Decision Can Be Made—M. F. Tarpey Says He Will Back Fight to Compel Southern Pacific and Santa Fe to Exchange Freight

Committee on Electric Railway—Messrs. M. F. Tarpey, E. E. Manheim and H. W. Welsh.
Committee on Canal—Messrs. A. L. Hobbs, J. Q. Anderson and James Porteus.
Committee on Statistics—Messrs. D. H. Gray, William Robertson and J. Q. Anderson.

These are the men to whom the Citizens' Terminal Rate Committee entrusted the duty of getting the material from which a final determination may be made with regard to the question of solution of the terminal rate question for Fresno. At the meeting of the committee, held last evening at the office of Attorney Welsh, there was much discussion of what should be done and much of the ground that had been talked over at previous meetings was gone over again. Finally it was determined that what the committee wanted was, without the expenditure of unnecessary money or waste of time, to find out which of the two generally discussed plans should be adopted, and when adopted, what business it could demand. With this in view, the sub-committees were appointed, and adjournment then taken to January 5th, to permit of the completion of the labors of the sub-committees.

Those present at the meeting were Messrs. Welsh, Short, Gray, Tarpey, Anderson, Libbey, Porteus, Hobbs, Manheim and Robertson. The meeting began with a motion on the part of Mr. Gray calling for the appointment of committees to go vigorously to work on an electric road proposition. Mr. Tarpey then asked Mr. Manheim regarding his opinion as to the effect of a road on securing terminal rates.

Mr. Manheim said that he thought that a road would tend in no way to effect terminal rates, but that it would give lower rates. The road would necessarily be run at an expense, and this expense would be met by the imposition of freight and passenger rates which would necessarily be added to the terminal rates. This, he said, did not say that the road would not be a great benefit, but it did answer the point that the purpose of the committee would not be accomplished by the building of a road.

Mr. Tarpey was not for a canal. He said that it would be too expensive and impracticable as a private enterprise and was infeasible as a public one, while its slowness of operation, even if built, would prevent its being an active competitor with the existing roads except with regard to the very heaviest freight. The possibility of a new and competing road was what the existing roads feared. If the money could be raised here to acquire the right of way which could be secured comparatively cheaply, and to lay the track, it could easily be bonded for enough to equip and operate.

Mr. Tarpey expressed unbounded faith that the paying quality of an electric road from here to the bay, even if a number of other steam lines should come into the valley. He said that he looked forward to the day when the valley would be covered with a network of roads. The electric line would be a paying one now. Of course provision should be made to see that the line should not be turned over to one of the transcontinental lines, as was done in the case of the Valley road, and the legal members of the committee should look after this matter.

Mr. Manheim said the whole question was one of money. There was no use of asking the existing lines for terminal rates. They would refuse to recognize any argument but necessity, and the only remedy they would recognize would be competition. The road would give this, and the road would be built if the money were gotten together for it, as happened when the Valley road was started, after years of talk. He pointed out that the Valley road did give and has given lower freight rates to this city.

Hobby for the Canal.
Mr. Hobbs was not satisfied with the motion, as it left out of consideration the fact that the committee was a terminal rate committee and a road would not secure terminal rates, but only lower rates. He did not want to see the canal proposition thrown aside without further investigation. Mr. Libbey was of the same opinion.

Mr. Short did not agree with Mr. Tarpey's ideas regarding the utter feasibility of a canal, although he thought it a practical impossibility at the present time because it could not be built by private capital, and the formation of a district to build it would meet with many legal difficulties, even if the people could be gotten to vote for it. A district to build the canal, taking in all the country affected, say the San Joaquin valley, could do it, he said, at the cost of a tax which would not be more than a third of the special school tax this year.

Serfs of the Roads.
Mr. Tarpey spoke very strongly of the business conditions now ruling in Fresno with regard to railroading, especially the secret agreements that each railroad shall not take cars from the territory. This, he said, practically made the people in one part of the territory serfs of one road, although the law said that cars should be exchanged.

Mr. Short pointed out that this law was a national law and not a state law, and so did not affect the transportation of goods from, say, Laton on the Santa Fe to Clovis on the Southern Pacific. While the state law is not specific, still, he thought, it might also be used to remedy this action on the part of the roads.

Mr. Tarpey said that if Messrs. Short and Welsh would examine into this matter and fight it in the courts, he would provide the fee.

The objection to the motion for an electric line, as made by Mr. Hobbs, brought out a spirited speech from Mr. Tarpey. He said that while he recognized that a canal committee should be appointed, so as to assure people that no snap judgment was being taken in favor of a competing railroad, for his part he would oppose a canal under all circumstances, as a useless proposition, only tending to divert, in the interests of the present companies, attention from an enterprise that would really hurt them. The companies, he said, would always have friends on hand to talk plausibly about things that would not hurt them in the least but would deceive the public from getting any real remedy.

The motion was then made and carried to appoint the three committees as above. Adjournment was taken till January to allow of plenty of time to prepare careful reports.

SCHOOL ROOMS ARE NOW WARM

Oil Plants Are Being Hastily Installed.

Board of Education Has No Place to Put Proposed Day at Present.

There will be no further suffering in the public schools from cold on account of lack of fuel. Assurance was given of this last night at the meeting of the City Board of Education, when City Superintendent McElroy reported to the board that oil plants are being rapidly installed in the High, Jefferson and Lincoln buildings. These will be ready for use by the time that the schools open after the Christmas vacation, and in the meantime an ample supply of coal has been secured to tide over the present emergency.

The Board of Education held its regular semi-monthly meeting last night at the city superintendent's office at the Washington Grammar school building. Most of the session was spent in running through the routine business, such as passing bills and committee reports.

Mrs. L. P. Swift and Mrs. H. C. Warner, on behalf of the city department of the Parlor Lecture club, asked for assistance in starting the proposed day nursery. The great difficulty is in finding a suitable building for the institution, but as all the schools are overcrowded, the board could offer no assistance.

It was decided to give the school children a vacation on next Friday, the day after Thanksgiving, as has been the custom for a number of years.

L. A. Burham, who has been in charge of the manual training department of the city schools, filed his resignation to take effect on January 1st. He will accept a similar position in the Berkeley High school. J. M. Cox put in his application for any position as principal.

NOT ENOUGH CLOTHES FOR POOR CHILDREN

Pitiful Procession at Parental School Yesterday Indicates Great Need of Systematic Charity Work in this City.

When the wagonload of clothes first arrived at the Parental school last Friday, the committee did not imagine that there would be any call for the entire amount and so no elaborate arrangements were made for ascertaining whether the applicants were deserving or not.

The clothes were collected last week to the first corner, and when last night the ladies of the committee realized that the problem of the poor children in Fresno is one of greater magnitude than had been supposed.

As a result, the supply has been exhausted and there are still 150 more children to be supplied with clothing. The ladies of the civic committee of the Parlor Lecture club have issued another call for clothing and will distribute this among the children. Not the least important result of the work done during the past two days is the keeping of the record of the applicants for clothes, which is the start of systematic charity work by the civic department of the Parlor Lecture club.

The pitiful procession that lined up in front of the Parental school Monday and Tuesday had brought home to the people of Fresno the great need for organized charity work in this city. The figures collected will be turned over to the Fresno branch of the Associated Charities, when that organization is established here.

Meanwhile the ladies of the club will continue to furnish all the needy children with clothing. Anyone who has any clothing can leave it at the Parental school or at the office of City Superintendent of Schools, McElroy in the Grammar school building. If he is unable to take the clothes to either of these places, a telephone message will bring a wagon to his door to get the donation. Warm clothing of any kind, no matter how much patched, if it be clean, will be acceptable. Underclothes are at a premium.

ARMENIAN CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ENTERTAINS
Literary and Musical Program, Delights Friends of Young People.

The Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of the First Armenian Presbyterian church, entertained its friends last evening with a social. The feature of the evening was the literary and musical program, in which a number of persons from other church societies of the city took part. The entertainment is given by the Endeavor Society each year for the benefit of the church. John Braves gave an opening address of welcome and reviewed the work accomplished by the body of young people during the past year. A highly interesting and entertaining literary and musical program was rendered during the evening and a very large crowd enjoyed the hospitality of the church.

Most of the children that applied at the Parental school for clothing were Italians and Mexicans, and many parents came to get clothes for children that were too young to venture out in the cold weather. Besides the old clothes, twenty-five pairs of new shoes that were purchased with money from the charitable bequests of the Kutner estate were given out. With each pair of these shoes went a pair of stockings.

The greater part of the children were under the age of 14 years, although there were some men in the procession. These were workmen who have been sick and unable to earn a livelihood.

The ladies who distributed the clothes kept a record of the applicants, which included their names, addresses, ages and occupations of their parents.

Besides the children who were supplied with clothes, there were applications from as many as fifty families which the committee were unable to supply.

Dressed Turkeys Today, lb., 19c

We know this announcement will thrill the town from end to end and in explanation of this startlingly low price we want to say that we are simply trying to express to the people of Fresno our sincere appreciation of the patronage given to us.

You will remember that it was Roosevelt who said, "Words are good when backed by deeds, and only so."

We are not making a mere lip service of our appreciation. These turkeys are actually worth 25c a pound today, and you would pay it if we asked it.

In San Francisco turkeys are selling at 30c to 35c a pound. In Los Angeles at 35c to 40c a pound—so if your dealer in Fresno asks you 25c a pound he is quite reasonable.

We tell you that we will sell all day long the finest collection of turkeys in Fresno at 19c a pound dressed.

WE WANT EVERY FAMILY IN FRESNO TO HAVE ITS FILL OF TURKEY TODAY. so we name a price that makes the great American bird a welcome visitor in all homes.

The store will close, with the exception of the meat department, at 6 P. M. as usual. The meat department will be open until 9 o'clock tonight. Entrance through the rear.
